TILDEN NOW AN ACTIVE CANDIDATE. At Cincinnati it is understood that Mr. Tilden is now an active candidate. Mr. Tilden's friends in this city deny the report that Henry B. Payne has been asked by telegraph from Gramercy Park to take the second place on the Democratic ticket. They also deny that a circular, in support of Mr. Tilden, which was thought to be inspired by him, was really issued on his authority, or with his knowledge. Several prominent Democrats have already left this city for Cincinnati.

OUTLOOK AT CINCINNATI.

TILDEN'S SCOUTS ALREADY IN THE FIELD-HIS NOM-INATION TO BE SOUGHT FOR-OPPOSITION GATH-

IBY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] CINCINNATI, June 16 .- There seems to be ne longer any doubt that Mr. Tilden will be an active candidate before the National Democratic Convention. A gentleman arrived here to-day who is in the confidence of the Tilden managers and who says that the New-York delegation will present Tilden's name to the Convention, doing so in dead earnest, and with the determination that he shall receive the nomination. This decision has been arrived at, it is said, in the councils held at Mr. Tilden's house in New-York during the past ten days.

William C. Whitney, E. K. Apgar and others of the regular New-York delegation, will arrive here to-morrow morning in a special car.

to-morrow morning in a special car.

The well-informed Tilden men scont the idea of Seymour's nomination. They say that Governor Seymour's sincere in his determination not to be a candidate.

The motto of the Anti-Tilden men are already "anybody but Tilden," and so far as the feeling can be judged from the expressions of the small number of delegates who have arrived thus far, there is a much stronger desire to defeat him on the ground that he has ceased to be available, than there is to nominate any other candidate in narticular.

It is stated that Judge Hoadley, of Ohio and Oregon, will probably be recommended to the National Committee for temporary chairman of the Convention, and that ex-Seuator G. W. Stevenson, of Kentucky, will probably be permanent chairman.

"It is simply one of those lies the newspapers get about me once in a while, like that which appeared in The Cincinnati Enquirer this week, for instance, And, by the way, I would like you to correct that. The Cincinnati Enquirer has it that I said Tilden had sent for me, and had stated: 'I shall try to secure the nomination. If I fail I am resolved to give it to you. Help me to the last and I will help you.' Now, there has been no such meeting between Mr. Tilden and myself, and the whole thing is untrue."

" How long is it since you saw Mr. Tilden ?" "I believe it is more than six weeks, and then it was not in regard to these matters, out merely private business. I have nothing whatever to do with Mr. Tilden's political plans-if he has any."

MR. TILDEN'S FRIENDS AND FOES.

THE REPORT ABOUT TELEGRAPHIC NEGOTIATIONS WITH HENRY B. PAYNE DENIED-A CIRCULAR WHICH MR. TILDEN DID NOT AUTHORIZE-TAM-

MANY STILL DEFIANT. The report that Henry B. Payne, of Ohio, has been asked by telegraph from Gramercy Park if he will allow his name to be used for the second place on the Democratic ticket with Mr. Tilden, is discredited by some of Mr. Tilden's close friends. The nomination of Mr. Garffeld disarranged a good many of the Demo eratic plans. Had General Grant or Senator Blaine been nominated, Mr. Payne might have been given the first or second place on the Democratic ticket, probably the latter, Mr. Tilden's friends say. But the nomina-tion of Garfield interfered with this plan. It is felt that If an Ohio man be given the first or second place on the Democratic ticket a strong effort must be made to con test Ohio. In case of a Republican victory at the State election in October, the effect, it is argued, would be very bad, and would probably insure the defeat of the Democratic ticket.

A circular, giving a number of reasons why Mr. Tilden should receive the nomination for President, has been sent about in this city within the past two days. It has been asserted that this circular was issued by authority from the Tilden headquarters. This is positively denied by Mr. Tilden's relatives and friends. The circular is for Cincinnati. Corporation Counsel William C. Whitney, General Lester B. Faulkner, the chairman of the Democratic State Committee; Peter B. Olney, John E. Develin and others went yesterday morning in a special ear from the Grand Central Depot. At 6 p. m. ex-Senator William H. Barnam, William H. Barnam, jr., Smith Weed, Manton Marble, Thomas Costigan, of The City Record; E. B. Dickinson, A. F. Dimock, Charles Canda, C. S. Beardsley, M. H. Gearon, James Fitzgerald and Dr. Miller, of Nebraska, began their journey. Henry A. Tilden, Dock Commissioner Dimock, and other sup-porters of Mr. Tilden, were at the depot to see the party off.

Sheriff Bowe, Hulert O. Thompson, John Fox, ex-Senator Ecclesine, Michael Warton and others will start in a special car at 6 p. m. to-day. They will take with them Arbuckle the cornet player.

Mayor Cooper, Colonel John Tracy, Andrew H. Greene and other leaders of Irving Hall will go Friday evening. The arrangement for the departure of the special trains of the Irving Hall and Tammany Hall organizations have been already described in The Tumuxe. Each organization is determined that it will not be outdoned by the other.

TAMMANY STILL OPPOSED TO TILDEN. The Tammany Hail Committee on Organization met at the Fourteenth-st. wigwam yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance. Mr. Kelly and his captains of hundreds were present. Speeches were made urging all the members of the organization to go to urging all the members of the organization to go to the Caucianati Convention. Railway ticaets at reduced rates were sold. It was heard with horror that the Tiden men were giving away railway ticaets to whoseever would go to Caccianati and "shout for Tilden," and that the promise was made that $20 additional should be paid to the shouter on his arrival at Caccianati to pay his expenses.

Henry D. Purroy offered a final resolution in opposition to the nomination of Mr. Tilden. This declared that the Tammany Hall Democrats would put forth as much effort to defeat Tilden if he were nominated as they would to cleet any other candidate. The resolution was unanimously adopted, each man's name being called and his consent to the passage of the resolution being secured. The meeting was then disselved.

THE KELLY LITERARY BUREAU. On the second floor of No. 23 Park-row, the Kelly Democratic State Committee has its headquarters. Here is the heart of all the opposition in the Democratic party in this State to the renomination of Mr. Tilden ; from it have radiated currents of influence which have materially affected the selection of delegates to the Cin-cinnati Convention. The rooms are pleasantly furnished and some one is always present to entertain Democratic statesmen of other States who are opposed to Tilden, and who may call on their way through the city. A Democratic visitor feels at home at once; for he sees on the waits portraits of Horatio Seymour, Andrew Jackson, Henry Clay, Sanford E. Church and Andrew Jackson, Henry Ciay, Sanford E. Church and John Kelly. It is evident that there has been a split in the Democratic party since 1876, for Mr. Tilden is represented in plaster on the mantel as a thumble rigger, while at the other end of the mantel Mr. Kelly appears clad in a Roman toga and looking unalterably opposed to Mr. Tilden's renomination. For four months this place has been "a literary bureau" in opposition to Mr. Tilden's renomination. Out of it have come innumerable letters to prominent politicians in all parts of the Union, intended to show the folly of renominating Mr. Tilden. The letters have been accompanied by decaments giving a history of the split in the Democratic party in this State.

A SERENADE TO GARFIELD.

AN ENTRUSIASTIC GREETING-SPEECHES BY GAR-FIELD, DEVENS, LOGAN AND OTHERS. [BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

WASHINGTON, June 16 .- The National veterans of Washington, accompanied by several of the Republican organizations of this city, serenaded General Garfield at the Riggs House this evening. A temporary stand had been erected at the G-st. entrance of the hotel, and had been gayly decorated with flags, streamers and gas jets, and a calcium lamp, placed on the portico of the Treasury building near by, lighted up the street, the crowd and the platform.

The National veterans were under the command of Major M. E. Urell, who received the other organizations which participated in the demonstration, and assigned them places in the line.

At about 8 o'clock, the procession, headed by the Marine Band, marched through a few of the principal streets of the city. The route was illuminated with variously colored lights, and there was a constant discharge of fireworks as the procession passed along. Arriving at the Riggs House, the veterans and their guests halted, with their battle-flag and banners in front of the stand, and several thousand people gathered about them, filling the broad street for two squares with a solid sea of men.

After the Marine Band had performed a few pieces there were loud calls for General Garfield, who soon appeared accompanied by General Devens.

The Attorney-General spoke for about fifteen min utes, and his speech was full of good points and wise suggestions. His references to Lincoln, Grant and Hayes, the three Presidents chosen by the Republicans, were received with much applause. His introduction of General Garfield was particularly General Garfield appeared perfectly self-possessed and spoke for a few minutes with all his accustomed force. He was received with enthusiastic applause. Carefully avoiding political topics he did appeal to the patriotism and National pride of his audience and left them with hearty thanks for the honor of the serenade.

General Garfield was followed by Mr. Robeson General Williams of Wisconsin, General Logan and General George A. Sheridan, all of whom were loudly applauded.

Colonel J. O. P. Burnside introduced General Devens, who stepped to the front of the platform and, after a few introductory remarks, spoke as and, after a few introductory remarks, spoke as follows:

He said that the American people stood to-day on the threshold of one of the grandest spectacles which the world ever saw—that of a great, free people about to choose its ruler. Let the transaction be approached with the gravity which belitted its dignity. Let the Republican party leave to others slahder and backburing and mud throwing. [Cheers.] Let it strive to lift the conflict up to the pinne of great principle. The shifting sands of compromise had passed away, and the American people had planted themselves on the great principles of liberty and equality. [Cheers.] He alluded to the stormy scenes of the Cheago Convention. There had been disappoint ment and feeling, and at one time he had feared that there might be division and disaension. That time had passed away, and out of the neithe danger had been plucked the flower safety. [Cheers.] He referred to the great Republican Presidents, Lincoin, Grant and Hages, and each name was greeted with loud cheers. It, he concluded, you sought an example in one person of the mode in which by our free evidination hope is given to the numblest as well as the highest bern to aspire, by loft, aim, by high ambition, by noble prophecies to the greatest difice in your glift, where would you seek it but in James A. Garfield. [Cheers.] I introduce to you, therefore, a scholar who has found the path of learning no primesse path, but has won his way along by steady industry; a soldier whose sheld is unsolid and whose sword is spotless; a statesman on whom rests no stain or dispondent whose sheld is unsolid and whose sword is spotless; a statesman on whom rests no stain or dispondent in a Christian gentleman respecting the rights of every man because be himself is kind, considerate and selfrespecting always. I Introduce General James A. Garfield. [Loud cheering.]

General Garfield came forward and spoke as fol-

by Mr. Tilden's relatives and friends. The circular is the work of a man who held a position under the city government, and was turned out because of his opposition to Mr. Kelly's candidacy for the Governorship last Fall. Henry A. Tilden said yesterday to a reporter of The Tahbune:

"The circular you mentioned was not issued by authority of Mr. Tilden, and he knew nothing of it. He would not make his wishes known in that manner."

Other of Mr. Tilden's lieutenants said that they knew nothing of the circular, and were satisfied that Mr. Tilden had nothing to do with it.

"Mr. Tilden does not work in that way," said one. "His plans are carried out by his own trusted agents, and the results will appear in proper time. Each one has his work laid out, and it is part of a comprehensive scheme. I have every reason to believe that Mr. Tilden is in the field as a candidate, and yet it is among the probabilities that his name may not be presented to the Convention."

"Whom do the Tilden delegates favor in case Mr. Tilden will remain in the field. The names of Abram S. Hewiti, Joel Parker, of New-Jersey, and others have been mentioned casually, but no one seems to have been mentioned casually, but no one seems to have been mentioned casually, but no one seems to have been mentioned casually, but no one seems to have a decided preference outside of Mr. Tilden."

A GREAT BANK ROBBERY.

PRESIDENT WAITE A FUGITIVE.

THE FIEST NATIONAL BANK OF BRATILEBORO PLUN-DERED TO THE EXTENT OF $250,000-FRAUDS DATING BACK MANY YEARS BROUGHT TO

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., June 16 .- The rumors regarding the insolvency of the First Na-tional Bank of Brattleboro were more than realized this morning. Enough is already known to warrant the statement that the loss will reach upward M. Waite, who has undoubtedly left the country, and, a as receiver for the present.

The forged paper includes that of the Connecticut River Railroad Company for about $50,000; Frederick Billings, $20,000; Trenor W. Park, of New-York, $20,000; Lyon & Healy, of Chicago, $20,000; the Taunton Locomotive Works, about $12,000; C. J. Amidon, Hinsdale, $15,000; Vermilye & Co., New-York, about $75,000, and others whose names will be made public as the investigation banks have been defraided.

The First National bank was chartered in 1952 by the name of the Windham County Back, and becau business a vear inter, with N. B. Wideston as president and sides M. Watte, the present defaulter, as casmer. The bank was run under the State charter for about fenvears. It was the first in the county to change to a National bong, it had the public confidence until 1872, when it was said to have been robbed of a large amount of Government bonds belonging mostly to special depositors. Suspicion was felt concerning the manner of the robbery, which was in mid-day, since which time confidence has been more or less shaken until the stock was inding a forced saic at 85, although numerous statements made it patent that the stock should bring more than par. At a special investigation April 23, the loans and discounts were piaceat at 85, although numerous statements made it patent that the stock should bring more than par. At a special investigation April 23, the loans and discounts were piaceat at 8504.149, capital stock $500.000, surplus $57,000, undivided profits $7,111 and matividual deposits $61,112. It appears that of the latter the Vermont Saymers Bank own discovers $60,000 and $40,000. This statement was sent to the stockholders, and, being attested by the directors, suspicion was temporarily removed.

Since January, 1878, Mr. Waite has been president of pany, and it is said the losses were settled by the payment of $70,000, the funds coming from the Brattle-boro Bank.

President Waite's practice was, it seems, to place these fraudulent notes before the directors (all the notes except one bearing the mans of one of the directors, who at the time was not present, and has lifs claim as to the solvency of the bank on these forgeries. The directors, not being particularly conversant with banking, accepted them as proof that all was right, and not until two or three weeks mgo did they attempt to acquaint themselves with the worth of these scurifies. About themselves with the worth of these scurifies. About this time Examiner Heidee, while making his usual four of inspection, discovered a discremately in the check fund in New York. This sed to inquiries, and one week ago Hendee returned to this place, and, it is supposed, informed Write of his discoveries. Waite was heard to ask Hendee if he could be allowed one week to make up the defied, and it is supposed that this was granted, as Waite on the following morning rose at 3 c'clock, bride his wife good-bye, and, in answer to her query, replied that he was going to New-York on bank business. The next tollings were from Portland, whence he wrote: "Shall quit the country." A tenegram received from detective last night says: "Think we are on the right track; probably self-destruction."

Certificates of stock have been issued for which as ertificates of stock have been issued for which as Certificates of stork have been issued for which as yet there has been no record found, and a double issue will undoubtedly be discovered.

The present Board of Directors consists of Messrs. 8, M. Waite, J. M. Tyler (at present member of Courtiess from this district), T. A. Nash, W. F. Richardson, H. C. Willard, of Brattleboro, Warren Parker, of Putney, Addison Whitehead, of Vernon, W. P. Richardson, of Chester, and C. J. Amidon, of Hussiale.

Several stockholders are known to have lost all their property by this collapse. It is believed that some of the directors are also financially ruined, and that another county bank suffers by the loss.

ADJOURNMENT AMID CONFUSION. THE SENATE FAILS TO CONSIDER THE VETO-A BAD MEASURE KILLED-STRUGGLING FOR PRECE-DENCE IN THE HOUSE-THE DONNELLY-WASH-

The second session of the XLVIth Congress closed at noon yesterday amid scenes of disorder in the House and slight confusion in the Senate. The President's veto was not read, and consideration of it was postponed until December. Mr. Conkling failed to get a vote the Malt bill. INT TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBENE. WASHINGTON, June 16 .- Beyond the fact that this morning's session of the Senate was the last of the current legislative year, there was nothing to mark it as more worthy of notice than the most hum-drum of its predecessors. Senators long ago made up their minds that no measures of importance could, by any possibility, be passed during this session, and they seemed only anxious to-day to make some record which should bear proot of their individual diligence as compared with the inactivity of the whole body, but without any hopes on anybody's part that real good could be accomplished. The general anxiety to get the precedence for particular measures made the proceedings somewhat confused, and gave them a deceptive air of great

Senator Dawes briefly outlined a speech upon the ometimes disputed right of the lower House to

CLOSING SCENES IN THE HOUSE. REPORTS IN THE DONNELLY-WASHBURN ELECTION CASE-FINAL ADJOURNMENT AMID SCENES OF DISORDER AND CONFUSION.

INT TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE. Washington, June 16,-When the Speaker brought down his gavel to-day at noon, to declare the House of Representatives adjourned sine die, he interrupted the clerk, who at that moment was engaged in calling the roll to ascertain whether a quorum was present.

The proceedings of the two hours which preceded the gratifying announcement of the final adjourn ment of a House which has mainly distinguished itself by its blunders and incapacity, were not of striking interest, and the scenes which surrounded them were less animated than those of a last day's assion usually are.

Toward noon the galleries began to fill up, and at last became crowded with spectators, who looked on without appearing to be greatly interested. On the floor a good many members were busy clearing out their desks and arranging their papers for a speedy departure.

Since the Chicago Convention General Garfield's seat in the House has been an object of especial interest to his fellow-members, and has been alnost constantly occupied during every ser Yesterday and to-day it was used by Representative Ferdon, of New-York. That gentleman bears only a slight resemblance to General Gartield, but he was probably pointed out to many visitors to-day as the future President of the United States.

It ought not to be forgotten that the House of Representatives has lately furnished a Presidential candidate besides General Garfield, Ever since and her three-year old daughter, ate canned corned heef at Fort Lee yesterday. Soon after their dinner his nomination by the Pieliald Convention at Chicago last week, Mr. Weaver, of Iowa, has been absent from his seat in the House. Since he G. Dr. Parrish expressed his belief that it the preparation of the canned beef, copper kettles in been used. succeeded in "catching the Speaker's eye" and securing a vote on those famous financial resolutions, Mr. Weaver has not been very prominent in the proceedings of the House, and his absence has therefore caused very little remark.

The first incident in the proceedings this morning that excited much interest was the presentation by Mr. Carlisle of the report of the special committee to investigate the authorship of the anonymous letter to Mr. Springer. Mr. Carlisle briefty said that the committee had reached the unanimous conclusion that Finley wrote the anonymous letter. Finley, it may be remembered, was one of Donnelly's counsel and was his confidential friend and

As soon as Mr. Carlisle had finished his statement the fierce Mr. Manning, of Mississippi, Donnelly & friend, excitedly demanded to know whether the committee had found anything to connect Donnelly with the writing of the letter.

Mr. Carlisle quietly replied that the committee had not found time to weigh all the testimony, but that he did not think that Donnelly had been persmally implicated,

Mr. Mannieg then said that Donnelly having thus been "vindicated" he would present the report of the Elections Committee in the contested case of Donnelly against Washburn.
General Keifer then presented the majority re port of the same committee, declaring Donnelly not entitled to the seat.
After these reports had been presented an effort was made to proceed to business on the Speaker's table. This was defeated, and then began a scramble among members to secure the passage of bills providing for new public buildings in their respective districts. By general consent a bill appropri-

The Prince of Wales, responding to "the health of the Royal family," said he felt sure that he expressed the seatiments of all Englishmen when he sincerely hoped that the King of Greece might soon have the advantages which until now had been withheld from him Mr. Gladstone proposed the health of the Lord Mayor and Corporation. He said he trusted that the report of this celebration would go forth to the world as a demonstration that the interest of Englishmen in the fortunes of Greece is real and universal. "The Corporation," he said, "have chosen a day for this ceremony with singular felicity. Ou this day the representatives of the great powers of Europe are met together in the capital of the great German Empire for the purpose of considering in what way they may promptly give effect to the sipulations of the Treaty of Berlin, and provious that the assembled wisdom and might of Europe speaks to the world in accents that denote reality and are destined to have a practical effect. CAIRO, Wednesday, June 16, 1880. There is much excitement among the European and Arab population here because Chachin Pacha, formerly Minister of War and Marine, has obtained naturalization as an Italian subject without the tained naturalization as an Italian subject without tute permission of the Egyptian Government or the Porte, thus placing under the protection of the Italian Government his immense property, which it is generally supposed, really belongs to the ex-Khedive. Caachin Pacha left Egypt yesterday, without having a passport from the Egyptian Government. The Khedive has ordered his degradation and dismissal, and forbidden his return to Egypt.

GLADSTONE AND THE FRENCH MINISTER. LONDON, Wednesday, June 16, 1880.

It is said that Premier Gladstone wrote on Monday night last, before leaving the House of Commons, a long letter to Lord Lyons, British Minister to France, explaining the O'Donnell incident and instruct ing him to read the letter to President Grèvy. It is also rumored that if Mr. O'Donnell fails to prove his accusation against M. Challemel-Lacour, Premier Glad-stone will move a vote of censure upon him.

the physician, after an examination, pronounced Holly's wound to be not serious. The bullet had struck him on a rib just above the heart and passed around, coming out at the buck, making a flesh wound several inches long. A complaint was made before Justice B.N. Lyons yesterday morning, but as Holly refused to prosecute and as it appeared that Busteed had acred in self-denfence, the case was dismissed and Busteed came to New-York.

Miss Hannah Kusci'a made the following statement has tevening to a Trinung reporter: "Mr. Busteed, who has been a friend and acquantance of mine from early childhood, came up to Stamford resterday to pay us a short visit. He brought a valise with him and intended to stay all night. Mr. Holly, whose acquaintance I formed here, and who has shown me attentions, also called early in the evening. The two men had never met before, although Mr. Holly had often heard us mention the name of Mr. Busteed. We spent a very pleasant evening together. Mr. Busteed and I both talk German, which Mr. Holly does not understand, and he may have feit pfued at this. Mr. Busteed and not have a summary of the stand, and he may have feit pfued at this. Mr. Busteed and mr. Holly followed. He became abusive and put his hand behind him, as if to draw a revolver. I went down and asked Mr. Busteed to get him out of my room. Holly was found on the floor, vomiting and feigning to be intoxicated. Mr. Busteed had gone to his value and down stairs. At the foot of the stairs Holly drew a Coll's revolver and levelling it at Mr. Busteed. We was on the stairs, said. "— you, this is for you, Busteed." Mr. Busteed had gone to his value and atmed himself, and with his assistance I got Mr. Holly out of the pom and called the patrolmen.
